

Art History Professor Resume Template

Prof. Gerald W. Vanderbilt

Sunburst St., Minneapolis, MN

Phone: 612-558-7866

vanderbilt_gw@ycmail.com

Objective

To be an art history professor in a major university

Summary of Qualification

- 20 years of experience in the field of archeology with specialty in ancient and historical arts of various periods, with the last 8 years as an art history professor.
- Excellent command of the spoken and written English and German languages.

Career Experience/Job History

2002 – Present: Art History Professor, University of Minneapolis

- Conduct art history classes to students of fine arts and archeology students.
- Develop the curriculum for art history classes distinctly for fine arts and archeology students
- Tour states to conduct lectures on historical arts.
- Appear on TV, radio and web casts for discussion in ancient arts.

1990 – 2002: Art Historian/Curator, Chicago Museum of Art

- Authenticate artistic works in print and sculpture as well as ancient dinnerware, pottery, and jewelry artifacts from various cultures, with specialty in American Indian, Inca and Mayan cultures.
- Provide consultancy work to other museums and antique art galleries.

Education

1990 – Present: Continuing archeological studies on ancient art.

1990 – 1993: MS in Archeology, Harvard University

1986 – 1990: Bachelor of Fine Arts, Boston University

Professional reference will be furnished upon request